

JASMINE WHITBREAD

Jasmine Whitbread is a senior leader with 20 years of experience in sustainability and ESG, both working with the leaders of large listed businesses to navigate this increasingly critical set of issues, and in leading international NGOs, providing a uniquely valuable perspective.

Jasmine is a NonExecutive Director and Chair of the Governance and Sustainability Committee of Compagnie Financière Richemont SA, a Non-Executive Director and Compensation Committee Chair of WPP plc and Adviser at Brown Advisory Inc.

Previously, Jasmine was Chair of Travis Perkins plc, Non-Executive Director and Culture and Sustainability Committee Chair of Standard Chartered plc.

Jasmine was the first-ever CEO of Save the Children International, aligning all 30 members of the federation behind a single mission, strategy and campaigning voice spanning over 100 countries.

Major Career Roles

Chair, Travis Perkins plc

CEO, Save the Children International

Non-Executive Director, Compagnie Financière Richemont SA

Non-Executive Director, WPP plc

Non-Executive Director, Standard Chartered plc

CEO, London First

Other Career Highlights

Non-Executive Director and Digital Impact and Sustainability Committee Chair, BT Group plc

Trustee, Disasters Emergency Committee

Division Managing Director, Thomson Reuters Corp.

Director of Global Marketing, Cortex Corp.